Twenty-Two Travel Suggestions For The Aspiring World Traveler

Selection Criteria for the Suggestions

This project divides the world into twenty-two regions and suggests places to visit in each region. The regions are based on the United Nation's "M49" regional categorization system. For each region, the project selects up to three metropolitan areas in one country, based on points of interest and ease of travel. The map on the left depicts the selected countries (the text) and the regions (the colors). The bottom panel lists up to three cities selected for each country and all of the UNESCO World Cultural Heritage Sites within a 50 kilometer (31 mile) radius of each city (indented below each city). The rest of this panel lists the decision criteria for selecting travel destinations and how much each counted towards the final selection.
